

MATERION

Precision Coatings Monthly News & Updates

Visit our Website

Product Spotlight

Optical Interference Filters for Commercial Infrared

Materion is a recognized industry leader with over 25 years experience in the design and manufacture of custom IR interference filters. We can provide both small, prototype quantity as well as large OEM volume for a variety of applications such as gas analysis, moisture analysis, detection of fire and flame, and motion and body heat detection.

Learn More

Defense + Commercial Sensing Digital Forum 2020

More than 3,600 people signed up for the opportunity to participate in the free event including Materion. Authors shared emerging research and technology advances in sensors, infrared technology, laser systems, spectral imaging, radar, LIDAR, and more. The community heard from experts working on materials, components, systems, and analytics for defense, security, and commercial applications.

Visit our Digital Booth

Providing Critical Products and Services

Learn How Our Optical Filters Help Detect Coronavirus

These days, the news is dominated with the latest updates about the Coronavirus and how it is impacting the world. Our optical filters are a key part of the optical measurement in PCR systems that are being used to detect the COVID-19 virus.

Read Full Article

